

Marin CAMFT President's Message

Dan Neuharth, PhD, LMFT

Happy New Year! As your incoming president of the local chapter of Marin CAMFT, I feel excited and privileged to help make 2019 an exciting and fruitful year.

Did you know that as a Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist, you are part of the largest group of mental health care providers in Marin County? Of the nearly 2,000 licensed therapists in Marin, 50 percent are LMFTs. (Psychologists make up 22 percent, Licensed Clinical Social Workers comprise 17 percent, Psychiatrists are 9 percent and Licensed Professional Counselors and Licensed Educational Psychologists make up the remaining 2 percent, according to the California Board of Psychology.)

As the largest group of therapists in the county, Marin CAMFT has a strong voice in matters that concern us and our clients as well as the greater community. Marin CAMFT's goals include advancing visibility and recognition of our role and work in Marin County and beyond, as well as drawing attention to social and psychological issues affecting our community.

One important topic you can speak up about is advocating for inclusion for LMFTs as reimbursed Medicare providers. There are more people 65 and older than ever before, and seniors are living longer and being more active. In addition, Baby Boomers are more therapy-friendly than any prior generation. We want to be available to help serve this large group. Inclusion in Medicare would be a major step forward.

This year, bills have been introduced in both the U.S. House and Senate that would include LMFTs as Medicare providers, according us the status long held by social workers, psychologists and psychiatrists. Some observers believe that these bills have a better chance than ever of being enacted this term.

You can take action by contacting your congressional representatives and urging their support of these bills. You can do so easily through CAMFT's link.

In addition, if you have ideas for advocacy for other social and psychological issues that we, as LMFTs working together might pursue, the Marin CAMFT Board welcomes your ideas and energy. You can contact me at dan@drdanmftcounseling.com with thoughts, suggestions or questions.

Dan Neuharth has been in private practice in Marin for 25 years seeing couples and individual adults. A member of Marin CAMFT since 2001, he writes two blogs for the psychology/self-help website PsychCentral.com, one on How to Cope with Narcissists and one on Relationships. He is the author of If You Had Controlling Parents (HarperCollins Publishers) and Secrets You Keep From Yourself (St. Martin's Press). Dan is licensed as an MFT in California, Florida, Texas and Virginia.

Saturday, January 26, 2019, 9:00 am – 4:00 pm

Corte Madera Town Center, 770 Tamalpais Ave, Room 201, Corte Madera, CA 94925

California has experienced multiple disasters in the last year. During the immediate aftermath of a disaster, mental health clinicians can be extremely helpful to neighbors and the greater community. However, few are armed with the knowledge they need to engage effectively with the various disaster response entities to be in a position to help people impacted by disaster. Often, the path to engaging safely and effectively is confusing and filled with roadblocks. We will address the challenge of navigating through the maze of emergency response operations while maintaining personal safety and think through how to best respond in a variety of disaster scenarios.

This course, is designed to introduce LMFTs, LCSWs, LPCCs and LEPs to the practical aspects of engaging in disaster response as a mental health clinician, as identified by the instructors: one a psychologist, one a retired police officer, both seasoned disaster responders. They will explain the disaster cycle and disaster response framework, including the chaos that goes along with it. You will learn tips for how to navigate through the bureaucracy and cope with inherent frustrations, important considerations related to self-care and key disaster psychology intervention techniques to take into the field.

Together, we will discuss the variety of ways stress manifests in individuals exposed to disasters, how to formulate an understanding of the clinical picture and develop a plan in the context of disaster. Instructors will address considerations for developing cultural competency and how to develop and maintain a therapeutic alliance. This course gives students an opportunity to practice applying knowledge and skills using scenarios taken from the field and to develop the ability to discern when and how to apply their professional armament of therapeutic skills. The objective of this course is to give you a roadmap to solve problems, engage with others during disasters and help you develop a sense of confidence that you can draw from when disaster strikes.

Educational Goals / Learning Objectives

- Be able to describe 3 stages of how a disaster response unfolds.
- Be able to describe 2 disaster response characteristics that impact one's ability to engage in a disaster response operation DRO.
- Be able to describe and utilize one or more avenues for engaging in disaster response.
- Be able to explain the importance of personal safety during disaster response and list several ways of how to stay safe.
- be able to identify and discuss what the stress response looks like during a disaster.
- Be able to distinguish Psychological First Aid PFA, Enhanced Psychological First Aid E-PFA and be able to describe and utilize several current accepted E-PFA practices employed during disasters.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Thank you to all who have already renewed your membership in Marin CAMFT! This means that you will no longer be receiving those pesky automatic reminders from the website or the more deliberate ones from the Webmaster! (That is, unless you snail-mailed your $65.00 check to Marin CAMFT PO Box 9065, San Rafael, CA 94912, which may take up to 3 weeks to credit to your account!) This also means that you will be able to register more easily for the January 12 Law and Ethics Workshop for the reduced members' fee.

If you haven't renewed yet, there is still time! The 30-day grace period ends on January 31, after which you will be required to pay a $15.00 late fee to renew.

There are some interesting features for renewing this year:

- Prelicensed members join free
- Our WildApricot website now allows you to pay with your own credit card rather than with PayPal
- Check out the easy online renewal directions on the MarinCAMFT.org home page
- Licensed members have the option of renewing their membership automatically by choosing the appropriate membership level in their profile
- Licensed members also have the option of selecting the Lifetime Membership option and paying a one-time fee of $500.00

Lynne Clyde, our Membership Director, can help you with any renewal issues you may have. CLICK to contact her by email or call 415 462 4399.

HAVE YOU JOINED MARIN CAMFT'S LISTSERV?

If you haven't joined yet, you are missing one of Marin CAMFT's most valuable means of communication! Of the 321 members of this chapter, only 170 are currently using our Group.io to communicate with their colleagues about clinical matters, referrals, sublets, internships, job opportunities, etc. I hope that the other 151 members decide to give it a try!

Last year there were a total of 1068 messages sent, or roughly 3 per day - which you can receive as individual emails in your regular email inbox or as a digest of the days fare. (Much less intrusive than what happens if you happen to follow a thread on NextDoor about coyotes!)

At the moment the Trending Topics are:

Seeking a girls' group for a 9-year old...3 posts

Seeking referral for Young Adult....3 posts

Requirement for Suicide Training.....7 posts

And the newest messages announce:

Drama Therapy Training Group

This Friday EFT Training

Neurodevelopment Art Therapy: Treating Complex Trauma

Interested? CLICK for information about how to use the listserv on Marin CAMFT's website. You can click the Join button, follow the directions and you will be approved by the Moderator, Myron Walters. Either one can also send you an invitation to join directly from the Groups.io webpage.

Once established, it's very easy to use! Posts come to your email inbox and you simply reply as though to a regular email.

Scholarship Committee Report

Marty Frankel, Committee Chair

We are pleased to celebrate the two very deserving winners of our 2018 Kristina M. Carey Memorial Scholarships. Both our Registered Associate MFT winner, Cheryl Clementson, and our Trainee winner, Suzanna Brown, are on a path to become excellent therapists and colleagues and we are excited to introduce them to you.

Cheryl Clementson is a 2017 graduate of Sonoma State College working at Alternative Family Services of San Rafael in their Transitional Age Youth Program. In this program, she supports several former foster youth in both practical life skills and personal growth as they work to make their individual hopes and dreams of success become reality. As a trainee, Cheryl worked in two Petaluma City Schools programs. As a Project Success counselor, Cheryl discovered her gift for connecting with at risk teens, providing individual and group counseling, and coordinating within the schools and other agencies to connect students with resources as well as screening at risk youth for substance abuse issues and providing support for those in need. Cheryl also worked as a family mentor with McKinney-Vento Homeless Family Services, supporting students to stay in school and to succeed academically and in life. Cheryl says that she decided to pursue marriage and family therapy as a career after first volunteering and then working on staff at the Helen Vine Detoxification Center.

Suzanna Brown is a December, 2018 graduate of Dominican University in their Marriage and Family Therapy Counseling Program, and continues to see clients as a trainee in both the Dominican University Counseling Center and at Kent Middle School. She credits the connections she made with students while teaching environmental arts education in the Bahamas after college and teaching Human Motivation to high school students in Marin to the discovery that she wants to work as a marriage and family therapist.

We want to thank the generous members of our chapter who have helped make these scholarships possible and encourage your continued support in donating to scholarships for future therapists in our community.
