What is a Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist?

Licensed Marriage and Family Therapists (LMFTs) are specialists who help clients with interpersonal relationships. They are trained to assess, diagnose and treat individuals, couples, families and groups to achieve more adequate, satisfying and productive marriage, family and social relationships. The practice also includes premarital counseling, child counseling, divorce or separation counseling and other relationship counseling.

Why use a Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist?

LMFTs are relationship experts. They work in private practice as well as various other settings with individuals, couples, families, children, adolescents and the elderly; providing support and perspective as clients struggle with life's challenges. LMFTs practice early crisis intervention and brief, focused psychotherapy to resolve many problems or reduce symptoms in the shortest time possible. They also have the expertise and skills where more intensive, long-term treatment is necessary to relieve mental or emotional conditions.
